WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this season, fair and warmer tonight. Tuesday fair, light to fresh southerly winds.

FUNERAL.—A delegation of Washington friends reached here about one o'clock yesterday on the ferry steamer, and moved up King street to Mr. Deane's undertaking establishment. The remains of Joseph J. Wiles had been brought there from Providence Hospital, in Washington, where he died on Friday evening, and from there the funeral moved, the Washington friends escorting the remains and furnishing the pallbearers. The line proceeded to the Catholic Church, where Rev. Richard L. Carne, pastor of the church, officiated. After the service, the remains were taken to the funeral home, where the line proceeded to the Catholic cemetery, where the interment was made. Later the remains were taken to the funeral home, where the line proceeded to the Catholic cemetery, where the interment was made. Later the remains were taken to the funeral home, where the line proceeded to the Catholic cemetery, where the interment was made.

The funeral of Robert Lee Posey, who was killed on Thursday evening, took place yesterday afternoon from the funeral home on lower Prince street. Many persons followed the remains to St. Mary's Church, where the acting pastor, Rev. Father Carne, preached the funeral sermon and officiated in the services. The pallbearers were Messrs. Charles Dean, Charles C. King, Cary Davis, George Sutton, Charles Norris and J. G. Ziemer. The interment was in Union cemetery. About thirty persons from Washington came here on the steamer Burdett and attended the funeral and brought with them several floral designs, which were placed upon the coffin of the deceased.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire soon after 10 o'clock this morning was caused by the partial burning of two frame houses near the corner of Royal and Pendleton streets, owned by Dr. G. T. Klippstein. One of the houses was occupied by colored people and the other house had been vacant for some time. The fire was of incendiary origin and was kindled between the two houses on the first floor. The fire department promptly responded and extinguished the flames after the upper parts of the houses had been burned. The loss, which is covered by insurance, is estimated at about $25.

An attempt was made at an early hour this morning to set fire to the house occupied by Mary Lucas, an old colored woman, who lives on Patrick street between Prince and Oronoco, but the would-be incendiaries were frightened off.

An oil stove in the house of George Nelson, at the corner of Royal and Prince streets exploded on Saturday night and set fire to the place, but the flames were extinguished by Officers Beach and Knight before any damage was done.

RAILROAD MATTERS.—Judge Robert H. Dean and his associates, who are interested in the construction of an electric railroad from Washington to Fairfax, Va., were in Falls Church on Tuesday in conference with some of the leading citizens in reference to the location of the road through the town. It was decided that Broad street was the most feasible and acceptable route to the citizens of Falls Church as it would give them a street car road through the town, giving the citizens a communication from one end of town to the other. This would be especially valuable to school children and to the people in the neighborhood of their groceries and other supplies. With stores, churches, schools and other places of interest, the road is well supplied with funds for the construction of the road and all they wish is encouragement of the citizens of the community.—[Falls Church Monitor.]

POLICE COURT.—The following cases were disposed of today: Richard Ware, colored, charged with trespassing and abusive language toward Sarah Ware, also colored, was fined $10. Wm. Chapman, colored, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was fined $10. Ferdinand Patton, charged with being drunk in the street and vagrancy, was given 30 days in the workhouse. Bud Washington, colored, charged with beating and assaulting Fannie Washington, also colored, was fined $5. Night Porter.—Last night was clear and cool. One prisoner and one judge were at the station house.

FAIRFAX CO. MEDICAL SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the Fairfax Co. Medical Society was held at the county on Thursday last. Dr. Brooks read a paper on Typhoid Malaria Fever illustrated by report of a case. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Dr. W. M. Lynch of Annandale, pres.; Dr. J. T. Jones of the Potomac, vice-pres.; Dr. Geo. B. Fader of Falls Church, Dr. E. L. Dettler of Herndon, Dr. F. M. Brooks of Swanton, con. sec. The next meeting will be held at Herndon in November.—[Falls Church Monitor.]

TRAIN DISPATCHER UFFELMAN DEAD.—Samuel Uffelman, train dispatcher of the Washington and Alexandria electric road, died at Providence Hospital, of Washington yesterday of typhoid fever. Mr. Uffelman was formerly in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad in a similar capacity, and was well known among railroad telegraphers. He was about thirty-five years of age and unmarried. He lived in this city for some time.

DEATH OF MR. HUNTON.—Silas B. Hunton, one of the oldest and most esteemed citizens of Fauquier county, died at Warrenton on Sunday afternoon, aged 82 years. He is survived by a widow, who was Mrs. Isaac, of Bennettsville, S. C. He was a brother of Gen. Eppa Hunton of the Virginia army, of Warrenton. His remains were interred at Mt. Hope, near New Baltimore, this afternoon.

BASEBALL.—The Alexandria baseball team defeated the Electric Park team, of Baltimore, at Baltimore on Saturday evening by a score of 16 to 10. The independent, an outshoot of the Alexandria Baseball Club, were defeated yesterday in a well-played game of ball on the grounds of the Virginia K. and Gun Club, at Four Mile Run, by a score of 13 to 11.

A ROYAL WEDDING.

King Alexander of Serbia and Mme. Maschin were married at Belgrade yesterday morning. The streets through which the bridal party procession passed were decorated with flags and strewn with flowers and the houses were draped with colored bunting. The route was double-lined with troops. It is estimated that there were 30,000 visitors from the provinces in the city.

At 10:30 o'clock the king drove to the residence of Mme. Maschin, whence he drove with her in an open carriage to the cathedral. They were preceded by cavalry and followed by M. Mansuroff, the czar's representative, and M. Nestorovitch, president of the Skupstchina, who were the official witnesses.

The crowd cheered as the procession passed along. The cathedral was thronged with dignitaries and members of the Skupstchina. The metropolitan solemnized the marriage according to the rites of the Greek church, and then addressed the king and queen, who afterward received the congratulations of the diplomats and others. The procession then reformed and returned to the Royal Konak, where a wedding breakfast was served.

The "Official Gazette" announces many promotions and bestowals of decorations on the occasion of the wedding. Amnesty is granted to some, and the terms of many political and other prisoners are shortened. It also announces the full pardon of M. Tausbanovitch, a radical ex-minister, who was serving nine years' imprisonment for an offense against King Milan, and Elitor Protitch, who had been sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment in an attempt to assassinate King Milan.
